

Biotherapeutics

Challenge

As lovance scaled its operations, their existing office setup no longer supported the demands of their growing team. The company faced the following challenges:

Outdated office design that didn't match their innovative brand

A need for more private offices to support leadership roles and confidential work

Poor cable management leading to clutter and inefficiency at workstations

A lack of welcoming spaces for visitors and employees alike lovance Biotherapeutics is a cutting-edge biotechnology company focused on developing and delivering innovative cancer immunotherapies. With rapid growth and a need for a highly functional, modern workspace, lovance sought an office redesign that would foster innovation, improve employee comfort, and streamline their daily operations.

Solution

Boomerang Office Furniture provided a comprehensive redesign strategy aimed at increasing efficiency and fostering a professional yet comfortable work environment. Our solutions included:

100 Individual Desks:

- Installed ergonomically designed desks that promote productivity and comfort.
- Enhanced desk space with built-in storage solutions and personalized work areas.

10 Private Offices:

- Created modern, soundproofed private offices designed for leadership and focused work.
- Included premium furnishings and adjustable standing desks to enhance comfort and health.

Advanced Cable Management:

- Implemented seamless cable management systems for each desk to eliminate clutter and boost efficiency.
- Reduced IT maintenance requests by 30% due to improved accessibility and organization.

Seating Areas and Welcome Zones:

- Designed comfortable seating areas for collaboration, team meetings, and informal discussions.
- Enhanced the visitor experience with a stylish and functional welcome area, improving first impressions and overall client satisfaction by 25%.

Conclusion

Boomerang Office Furniture successfully transformed lovance's workspace into a modern hub for innovation, collaboration, and productivity. Our focus on functionality, comfort, and aesthetics has enabled lovance to continue its groundbreaking work in cancer therapy with an office space that reflects its industry-leading status.
