Business & Transactional Law Firm —

Complete Office Furniture Installation

Challenge

The challenge was furnishing six distinct spaces — private offices, a café, a filing room, a lounge area, and a training room — in a way that felt cohesive, elevated, and distinctly right for the firm from one end of the office to the other. Every space needed to work independently and cohesively as part of a single unified environment.

A business and transactional law firm combining sophisticated, cost-effective legal counseling with the sound practical judgment that comes from hands-on business experience needed an office that reflected exactly who they are. Encouraging entrepreneurial approaches and creative thinking while maintaining the utmost in integrity and responsiveness, the firm needed a space that was polished and professional without being cold — and practical without being generic.

They called Boomerang Office Furniture.
